Few bother with budget hearing

By WENDY HANSCOM

SAD44 School Board members outnumbered the audience at Monday's public hearing on the proposed FY '95 district budget.

Eleven people, eight of them SAD44 employees, turned out for the hearing, and 12 of the board's 17 members were present.

Board members fielded just two questions from the audience and the hearing was over in 15 minutes.

Walter Hatch of Bethel asked if the Telstar High School's accreditation was still at risk.

Superintendent Ronald Jenkins said the main reason the accreditation was at risk was because Telstar does not have a certified librarian. The FY '95 budget adds the position back in, he said.

Norman Foster of Bethel told the board that the district should offer teaching salaries competitive with neighboring communities.

SAD44 teachers' salaries are below, but within a few dollars, of the state average, Jenkins said.

Safe havens can help kids keep off drugs

Restless teens and what to do with them. It's a dilemma most communities face. School, sports, clubs and other activities don't always fill up their days, and some bored teens turn to drinking and drug use for amusement.

In fact, a recent survey of Telstar High School students showed that a lot of kids drink. In 1992, 26 percent of Telstar's eighth-graders and 32 percent of the seniors reported drinking at home, with their parents' knowledge. Twenty-nine percent of the eighth-graders and 37 percent of the seniors said they drink at home without their parents' permission, and the 23 percent of the seniors admitted they drank "while driving around."

"I'm told by the kids that they can go uptown this afternoon and with no trouble whatsoever, within 15 minutes have whatever booze they want," said Rodney Abbott, Telstar's Chemical Health Coordinator. "There are places in town where adults have the attitude 'Let the kids have their parties.' Spring is an especially bad time for this."

Bear preys on local livestock

By WENDY HANSCOM

An Albany family is hunting down a bear that killed two sheep last week.

John and Joan Kimball had two ewes, a lamb, a ram and two pigs in a pasture near their house, but early Wednesday morning as John Kimball let the family dog outside, he saw a bear dragging off one of the ewes.

The Kimballs called game wardens and bear hunters to the scene, Joan Kimball said, but it was too late to pick up the bear's trail.

The sheep's body was left outside overnight and Thursday morning the bear came back, dragged the carcass off about 40 feet and started to bury it, she said.

Hunters with dogs returned to the Kimball home, chased the bear off and treed it a couple times, but did not kill it, Kimball said. Game wardens had said the bear would probably leave the area if it was chased aggressively, she said, but it didn't work. The bear came back Friday night and killed the Kimballs' ram.

Hunters and their dogs set out to kill the bear Saturday, but lost it in a swamp, Kimball said.

"We've been hunting it day and night with no luck so far," Kimball said.

State wildlife biologist Craig

McLaughlin of Inland Fisheries and Game said it's rare for bears to take livestock.

"We don't get that many reports of bears preying on domestic livestock in the state," McLaughlin said. "Occasionally bears do what this one is doing, but it's not a very widespread problem."

It's still early for bear to be roaming around, McLaughlin said, but he expects a lot of "nuisance" bear reports this spring.

"Especially in the northern part of the state the beechnut crop wasn't very good," he said. "The nuts are a large part of the bears' diet and due to the poor crop they went into their dens early. They'll be weakened when they come out, thinner than usual, and there won't be any beechnuts left over for them."

Bears usually avoid populated areas, McLaughlin said, but are sometimes attracted to trash, pet food and backyard bird feeders.

Marauding bears have also been reported in New Hampshire. Police officials in Campton, N.H. handled three bear complaints over

LANDMARK UNHARMED—A midday fire Sunday destroyed a machinery repair garage and grain shed and silo at the Carter Farm on Middle Intervale Road, but the historic Middle Intervale Meeting House (left in photo), located only a few feet from the barn buildings, was untouched. Firefighters from Bethel, Greenwood and Newry fought the blaze, which took about an hour to extinguish. The garage and barn had been rebuilt only three years ago, after the original buildings were destroyed by a fire in 1989. The nearby meeting house, built in 1816, was never threatened, according to David Brown, assistant Bethel Fire Chief. But Brown noted that some small trees between the barn and the meeting house had begun to burn, and if the wind Sunday had been as strong as it had been for the two previous days, he said, the meeting house could have been very much at risk. Bethel Station

Planners want expert help

By WENDY HANSCOM

Bethel planners will rely heavily on the advice of various "experts" on several engineering aspects of the Bethel Station project.

Board members said last week, that matters such as water supply, flood plain management, storm water drainage plans, road construction and sewer disposal are best left to people with more experience than the average Planning Board member.

"We should look at what we always look at," said planner Dennis Doyen, "that's the building, the parking and how it relates to the site plan and leave the rest of it to the folks who are getting paid to do the job."

The Bethel Planning Board will hold a special meeting tonight (Wednesday) to consider the Bethel Station project's site plan application.

Different parts of the project need approval from the Maine Department of Environmental Engineers, the Army Corp of Engineers, Bethel's Fire Department and town road commissioner Madeleine Henley.

The Bethel Water District must also notify the board whether or not it can supply water to the development. Developers must also show that the town's sewer system can handle the project's sewerage.

Board chairman Frank Vogt said the board will probably take a "piecemeal" approach to approving individual buildings within the project (see box).

Developer Heinie Merrill gave the board a list of buildings and roads he would like the board to look at first. That list included the hotel, train station, movie theater and two

Phase-by-phase sewer fee is OK but not building-by-building

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Board of Selectmen is willing to phase in the Sewer System Development Charge for the Bethel Station project, but the board is not willing to collect the fee on a building-by-building basis.

Town Manager Madeleine Henley asked the selectmen Monday to clarify their position, in order to avoid any misunderstanding with developer Heinie Merrill.

"I don't want him to pretend this is any big surprise," Henley told the board.

The fee will be a hefty one -- in excess of half a million dollars by the time the project is fully built out. The fees for the buildings the developers plan to put up this year are estimated at $175,000.

As it is currently envisioned, the project will be built out in three phases, with the first -- and largest -- phase to be started this summer.

Merrill had raised the SSDC question with the selectmen in earlier discussions, and the board members said Monday they had expressed a willingness to be "flexible" about calculating and collecting the fee. But they also said their recollections of the earlier discussions did not include saying they would be willing to collect the sewer hook-up fee on a building-by-building basis.

They were, however, prepared to collect the fee as each phase is undertaken. "If he sends in an application for phase one, he should pay whatever it requires," said board chairman Arthur Gilbert.

Much of the project's SSDC is slated to be used for upgrades at the sewerage treatment plant -- upgrades that will be necessitated in large part by the increased water flow from the project.

The selectmen also expressed concern that the town not be put in a negative cash-flow position as those upgrades are undertaken.

Bethel selectman hopefuls to face voters' questions

By MICHAEL DANIELS

A candidates' forum prior to next month's Bethel election will provide voters with an opportunity to find out where the four candidates for selectman stand on issues facing the town.

The forum was proposed by Bethel businessman Bob Laux and is being sponsored by the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce.

(In a letter to the editor this week, on page 2, Laux explains his reasons for calling for a forum.)

Details and format are still being worked out, Laux said, but a tentative date of June 1 has been set.

Four candidates are seeking to fill the seat of retiring selectman Norman Putnam: Harry J. Faulkner, Jane Rolfe Lowe, Larry G. Smith and Richard H. Whitney.

All four have agreed to take part in the event, Laux said.

Top 10 Bethel taxpayers

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Eighty-two percent of Bethel taxes had been paid by the deadline Monday, according to tax collector Merton Brown.

The payment rate is consistent with other recent years, Brown said, and half of the still-outstanding taxes are expected to be paid by June 30 -- the last day to pay your taxes and not have your name listed as a tax delinquent in next year's annual town report.

The town's largest taxpayers (based on 1993 payments) are as follows: 1--P.H. Chadbourne and Co. ($63,098), 2--Bethel Commodore Corp. ($50,311), 3--Bethel Furniture Stock ($27,031), 4--Gould Academy ($24,559), 5--CMP ($23,293), 6--Newton and Tebbets ($22,262), 7--Bethel Park Apartments ($16,347), 8--Joan Moorhead ($14,350), 9--L.E. Davis ($13,955), and 10--Bethel Housing Association ($13,898).

BETHEL CANDIDATES FORUM

To the Editor:

The upcoming election for selectperson in Bethel is probably one of the most important in recent years. Bethel is facing some interesting questions that will affect the "quality of life" as we know and appreciate it today. The expansion of Bethel Station, the development of the Route 2/526 corridor, the utilization (or lack thereof) of the airport industrial park, the continuing issues involving sewer expansion/utilization, the enhancement of Main Street shops and the need for additional economic development of the area, represent just a few of the critical decisions facing the town.

I, as well as many other Bethel voters, am most respectful of all four candidates for office. Each of them bring strong characteristics and accomplishments in a number of areas. But where do they each stand on any of these critical issues? Do they support Bethel Station? Are they pro expansion of future economic development? What do they think about the limited employment opportunities presented to local kids who seek jobs elsewhere and leave the area, most often permanently? Although I know each candidate personally, do I really "know" how they stand on these and many other critical issues? My guess is no, an opinion I believe is shared by many other voters come June 14.

I just returned from the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors' meeting. I requested their endorsement and sponsoring of a "Candidates' Forum" on issues to be held approximately one week before the election. Without exception this board endorsed the forum and came up with some excellent suggestions for structure, format and solicitation of questions from the public prior to the forum.

We have tentatively scheduled the Candidates' Forum for Wednesday, June 1, from 7 to 9 p.m. to be held in the auditorium at Telstar High School. A Forum Panel, with representatives from local businesses, the chamber and the Bethel Citizen, will ask each candidate a series of pre-formatted questions on issues affecting voter concerns in the upcoming election. Citizens in attendance will be allowed to submit questions for consideration by the panelists. Each candidate will be allowed an opportunity to respond.

In order for the forum to work, we need input from the public. If you have a question you believe should be asked publicly of each candidate running for selectperson, please write or call the Chamber of Commerce (824-2282) or me at Creative Management (824-4044). We will be happy to compile and organize questions for the forum.

The Candidates' Forum represents a great opportunity for each of us to become more educated about where candidates for selectperson stand on the critical issues facing Bethel. I truly hope the citizens will participate in this ultimate democratic process.

NEWRY SHOULD LEAD

To the Editor:

As Newry Selectmen, it shouldn't be a big surprise that Steve Wight and I agree on most town strategies and decisions. His letter of last week while not an exception to this record of sound reasoning did reach an unsound conclusion in my opinion. I believe Newry should pull out of the district.

The levels of human maturity do not stop at three. In our country we reached the fourth with a system set up by the founding fathers to encourage people to act in their own best interests in pursuing life, liberty and happiness. They knew that this individual freedom with its built in responsibilities had the remarkable effect of benefiting the population in general. This way of living, more than any other reason, created America the envy of the world.

Recent history shows that altruistic actions forced on its people by socially progressive governments (East Germany, Russia, Cuba, etc.) do not work. Why then do we allow the State of Maine to continue along the same path? Growing state control of the educational process, the SADs of Maine, are an example of the steady loss of individual (town) freedom. Its not surprising that as this freedom with its inherent responsibilities is taken from the towns the quality of education declines. While I disagree with some of his numbers Mike Daniels was right when he said that "in the field of public education, bigger is seldom better." When you combine bigger with the world government you almost guarantee mediocrity.

The time is now to make a radical change to the status quo. The long term benefits to all the towns in the district are profound. Newry is able to break out of a system that has been in steady decline for a long time. The loss of a quality music program, the relegation of art to an after school activity, the severe restrictions in the sports field and increased cost to students in the hot lunch area are examples of this decline.

Its important to know that its the SAD system not the people within the system that caused this. It happened in spite of everyone's best efforts.

Keeping the young ones, K thru 8, close to home (town schools) will not only be good for them, it will be good for the state and country in general. Newry has the resources to run a model town school using 1994 technology which could be open to the other neighboring towns as an additional educational option. Leading the way is the best way for us to work together.

Selectman, Newry

STILL TIME TO BUY YOUR BRICKS

To the Editor:

Spring is here and we are looking forward to having the brick sidewalk on the Bethel Common ready for Mollycodd Day, July 16.

Many thanks to those who have already donated to the project. We are three-quarters of the way to our goal.

Anyone who has been waiting to buy their bricks, now is the time so that we can complete this project on schedule. Remember, bricks are $2 each and may be purchased in honor or in memory of a loved one.

All contributions are tax deductible as allowable by law. Checks should be made out to "Bricks/Town of Bethel" and mailed to: Bricks/Town of Bethel, P.O. Box 936, Bethel, ME 04217-0936.

Again, we deeply appreciate your support.

SHOW UP AND VOTE ON SCHOOL BUDGET NEXT WEEK

To the Editor:

In order to understand what the school budget will do to taxes in SAD44, I have the calculated figures for the member towns as follows:

Town	SAD 44 increase over last year	Mill rate increase	% increase in your taxes
Andover	$77,701.00	12 m. to 13.52	12.6%
Bethel	$127,924.00	14.75 m. to 15.75	9.48%
Greenwood	$62,628.00	10.2 m. to 11.24	10.19%
Newry	$120,342.00	13.8 m. to 14.94	10.82%
Woodstock	$59,269.00	17.9 m. to 18.96	10.59%

The school board was not unanimous in approving this budget. Initially some $300,000 was cut -- this was then reinstated.

We must think long and hard on the costs to our area for education. We must ask ourselves if money is the total answer to good education.

Most of our area households have not had the advantage of raises at work that match the rise of insurance and taxes. Nor have most households had raises that have been enjoyed by the staff of our school district. All of our towns have been put in the position of holding the line on needed expenditures in order to fund the schools. Our selectmen always have the total picture in mind of what we can afford.

For our information there are three articles that could be amended to decrease our costs for the school budget. They are:

Article VII: additional local.

Article VIII: total assessment.

Article IX: adult education.

Any amounts cut from the additional local, article seven, must be cut in article eight.

A secret ballot may be moved and seconded. Only 10 percent of the voters attending need to approve to have this carry.

I urge each of us to call 10 people and urge them to attend the budget meeting on Wednesday, May 25.

KEEP OUR DREAMS ALIVE

To the Editor:

Graduation for 1994 is only a few weeks away. It is so important at this time that we encourage all people to celebrate this occasion in a responsible manner. Students graduating are under the age of 21, and we as the Project Graduation Committee, do all we can to encourage chemical-free celebrations.

We have been working all year doing fundraisers and planning for this upcoming event. At the present time businesses, churches, etc., will be having someone drop off a sheet asking for donations to help us to continue these activities. We hope you will be able to donate -- any amount will help us greatly.

Graduation week we will be providing refreshments after the Awards Ceremony; we will have an ice cream smorgasbord, a barbecue, refreshments after graduation, an all-night celebration at the Royalty Club in Gorham, N.H., and breakfast at the Locke Mills Legion Hall. This year we are asking that the seniors and their guests be picked up at the Legion Hall, and we are encouraging anyone -- relatives, friends -- to join us at that time for breakfast. Breakfast will be at 5 a.m. The Legion does a wonderful job and what a great way to end for the seniors as they continue on in their own directions in life.

You may be called to donate refreshments. Please support us in any way you can. Help us to "Keep Our Dreams Alive."

Project Graduation committee meetings are on the third Tuesday of each month at Telstar High School, 6 to 8 p.m. We have one extra meeting in May, on May 26, to finalize all plans. We appreciate your support.

Public Broadcasting replies to columnist's criticism

I am writing to correct several glaring errors in Mike Brown's recent (Citizen, April 6) assault on Maine Public Broadcasting.

The first issue is his misunderstanding of Maine's Freedom of Access Law. He claims the law hasn't changed since the winter of 1992. Yes, it has! In 1992 the Legislature added a special paragraph to the law devoted solely to Maine Public Broadcasting Corporation. We are a private, non-profit organization -- the only one that is affected by that law. Because we are not a government agency, it applies to us in a more limited way.

Second, Mr. Brown claims Maine Public Broadcasting Corporation wouldn't give him financial information. He says he used "labyrinthine and time-consuming ways to ferret out financial information through IRS public documents..." Come on! I also sent him a copy of our IRS Form 990. We are extremely forthcoming. The only information we don't release is the individual salaries of every producer, accountant, receptionist and clerk. Neither do other non-profits such as private colleges, museums, public health or cultural organizations. I did offer him the opportunity to get national public TV and radio station average salaries from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting; I told him that a 1992 salary comparison between MPBC and these national averages showed that our salaries were substantially lower. But that, of course, didn't get mentioned in his column.

Finally, the salary information he cited for the top seven salaried positions included an average of $3,055 in benefits per person, which should have been treated separately, not combined with salaries. As for the average annual salary he gave for all our employees, I cannot understand how he arrived at his figure. The real average salary is $25,083. This is not high; it is so low that we are in danger of losing some of our best people. If Mr. Brown had asked for such comparisons, we would have readily complied.

LOOKING BACK

John Brown has pointed out in last week's column that Dr. Kneeland did not move to the house on Main Street, now owned by Don and Eleanor Brooks, initially, but to the house currently occupied by Maine Line Products and Rick and Ellen Whitney. After World War II, he set up practice in the former Wallace Warren house (owned by Don and Eleanor Brooks), where he remained for about 15 years.

10 years ago: The SAD44 Board of Directors approved the concept of a self-supporting summer school at Telstar Regional High School. The board of selectmen approved a proposed budget for 1984-85 of $494,846.61, which represented a five percent increase over the previous year. David Murphy was hired as principal of Andover and Woodstock Elementary schools. Brandi Brooks was selected to represent Mundt-Allen Post #81 as 1984 Miss Poppy. Births: Rebecca Swan, Nolan Patten, Joshua Putnam, Jay Hanscom. Marriage: Elinor Andrews and Joseph Beauchesne. Death: I. Elizabeth Cutting.

20 years ago: Edith Eyper announced plans to retire at the end of the school year. Stanley R. Howe was appointed curator for the newly restored Dr. Moses Mason House on Broad Street. The Town of Bethel was officially notified that the town dump must cease operations prior to July 1, 1975. Death: Oscar Twitchell.

30 years ago: Floyd O. Matthews was elected superintendent of School Union 22 (Bethel, West Paris, Greenwood, Newry, Gilead, Upton). Deaths: Mrs. G. Bertrand Whitman, Dannie Bryant, William Mills.

40 years ago: Philip Chadbourne was named a director of the Maine Hereford Breeders Association. At a special town meeting held in Odeon Hall granted permission for a memorial plaque to be placed on the Common by the Eastern Seaboard Apprenticeship Conference. After a lengthy discussion, the town meeting approved the closing of a section of High Street from Church Street to Elm Street. Birth: Kathryn Severance. Deaths: Walter Keniston, Harry Purington, Nettie Fleet, Mary Patterson.

50 years ago: Elaine Warren arrived in Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. for basic training in the Women's Army Corps. Lt. Howard Thurston, a member of the Marauder group stationed in Sardinia, was promoted to First Lieutenant. Three Cross brothers, Alton, Stuart, and Louis (Norton) were all stationed in the United Kingdom. Marriages: Helen Barnes and Rodney Waterhouse; Barbara Lyon and Harry Kuzyk. --Items in Looking Back are compiled by the Bethel Historical Society from back issues of The Bethel Citizen.

Bethel Bancorp to buy four Key Banks

PORTLAND--Key Bank of Maine has agreed to sell four of its 92 branches to affiliates of Bethel Bancorp. Key Bank plans to sell its Lisbon Falls and Richmond branches to Brunswick Federal Savings and its Buckfield and Mechanic Falls banks to Bethel Savings Bank. Sales terms were not disclosed. Key Bank officials say they have no immediate plans to sell any more branch offices.

Bus-train crash demo Thursday

GORHAM, N.H.--A school bus/train crash will be simulated Thursday on Route 2 in Gorham, N.H. near the golf course crossing. The crash demonstration will begin at 7 a.m. Two Saint Lawrence and Atlantic Railroad locomotives weighing 150 tons each will collide with an unoccupied, crash-ready bus, which will be obstructing the railroad crossing. The locomotives will be traveling east at approximately 10 miles per hour and will collide with the standing school bus. The bus will be pushed to two wreckers so when the locomotives hit the bus, it will be pushed to the side of the tracks and flip over. Several local emergency agencies will use the crash as a training exercise. The demonstration is being held on National Operation Lifesaver Awareness Day, which is part of the fifth annual National Transportation Week.

Town ready to close dump

ANDOVER--Selectmen were scheduled to meet with Andover's dump committee Tuesday night to discuss closing the town's landfill. The town was granted a temporary license to operate the landfill as a transfer station, and must now close down the dump.

The Town Office will be closed May 19 while selectmen and staff attend workshops. There will be a meeting between selectmen and local victualers for relicensing on May 24 at 6:30 p.m. during the regular meeting of the selectmen.

Rabies shots for 12 Mass. students

WEST ROXBURY, MASS.--Twelve second- and third-graders at the Ohrenberger Elementary School in West Roxbury, Mass. must undergo rabies treatments after being bitten by a bat students picked up on the school's playground.

On April 15, the students found the bat and took it to a teacher. The teacher refused to let the bat be killed for rabies testing. The 12 students and the teacher who released the bat are taking rabies treatment shots.

GTE sale to OT&T approved by PUC

OXFORD--The Public Utilities Commission has approved Oxford Tel & Tel's plan to buy parts of GTE's telephone service. On June 30, Oxford T&T of Buckfield will take over phone service in North Norway, Hebron, Bethel, Locke Mills, Andover, Upton, Newry, Roxbury Pond, West Bethel and Gilead. Part of the PUC's 14-page approval stipulates a rate freeze for the next few years.

Local customers should see little change in service, according to company officials. Oxford T&T is the parent company of Oxford West and Bryant Pond Telephone Company.

Annual parade will march on ANDOVER--Town officials have decided to go ahead with Andover's annual Memorial Day parade, whether a band is found or not. Fire Chief Ken Dixon said earlier this spring that holding a parade without a band would be difficult. In past years, local officials had Telstar High School's band, but the school no longer has a marching or concert band.

Local American Legion officials have lined up Leavitt High School's marching band for the Bethel, Greenwood and Woodstock Memorial Day parades.

Firefighters clean up manure spill

RUMFORD--An Andover man spilled a load of cow manure on Route 108 last week when his pickup truck went over a bump and lost its tailgate. Firefighters were called out to wash about five cubic yards of the slippery manure off the road. It took about an hour and 3,000 gallons of water to rinse off 700 feet of road. "It just goes to show you that we have to be prepared to do just about anything," said Rumford Fire Chief Arthur Boivin.

Selectman up for MMA committee

WEST PARIS--Selectman James Marshall has been nominated for election to the Legislative Policy Committee of the Maine Municipal Association. Marshall is serving his second three-year term as selectman. The town's other two selectmen, Howard Gurney and Wade Rainey, last week voted to nominate Marshall for the committee. Nominations closed May 25 with elections at an unspecified date.

Conservation school given canoes

WOODSTOCK--The Norway-Paris and Fryeburg fish and game associations has given the Maine Conservation School in Bryant Pond two canoes, four paddles and four life vests. The Norway-Paris Fish and Game Association purchased and donated the canoes and the Fryeburg club pitched in the paddles and life vests.

Town Warrant signed

BETHEL--The Bethel Board Selectman has given final approval to the warrant for the upcoming Town Meeting. The selectmen are recommending a town budget of $1,286,188, up roughly 10 percent from the budget for the previous year. The warrant approved Monday includes two expenditures recommended against by the town Budget Committee: a new dump truck for the Public Works Department ($60,000) and flowers and shrubs for the village ($500). The final decision will be up to voters at the June 15 meeting.

Cleanup days, cable talks

NEWRY--Selectmen have scheduled the town's annual cleanup days for June 10, 11 and 12, but this year there's a twist. Instead of leaving white and brown goods, furniture, mattresses, tires and non-recyclable glass beside the road for pickup, homeowners will be asked to transport their trash to Sunday River Ski Resort. The waste will be piled at parking lot five. The hours are June 10, 4 to 8 p.m.; June 11, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and June 12, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The town is also going to see if United Video Cablevision will install cable lines throughout the rest of the town if the town is willing to pay for part of the installation. The town's cable franchise fees could be used to fund the installation, said selectman Steve Wight, which would require a town vote.

From the Bethel Police log:

Ballplayer find items under a hedge

A Chapman Street resident chasing a baseball Sunday, found several items stashed under a hedge near the Masonic Lodge. Those items included a golf club, overcoat, camera, binoculars, small flashlight, compact disc case with several CDs, some clothes and more.

On May 13, police responded to a report of a woman slumped over her steering wheel. When police arrived the woman was walking around the vehicle. Police could smell alcohol on the woman's breath, according to the report, but did not think she was ill. She was transported to Rumford Community Hospital.

Later in the day, police charged two West Paris juveniles with possession of a usable amount of marijuana and illegal transportation.

May 15, a Paradise Road resident reported tree limbs on nearby power lines. Police responded, but found no fire. Central Maine Power was notified.

Also on Sunday, Tri-County Mental Health called police with a report of what they considered a serious suicide threat. Police checked out the call and determined there was not enough reason for involuntary commitment of the individual.

roads -- Parkway, which connects Route 26 to Route 2, and Lincoln Street, off Parkway to the hotel and Cross Street.

The board took a preliminary look at plans last week for the six-story hotel/condominium complex, and will probably discuss hotel plans at tonight's meeting.

The hotel's height is currently proposed at 75 feet. A cupola would bring the building height up to about 95 feet in one section, Merrill said.

The board has until June 4 to decide whether or not to waive the town's 35-foot height ordinance for the hotel. Planners at another recent board meeting seemed to be in favor of the waiver.

Planners also discussed how to best review the Bethel Station project. The board talked about starting their regular bimonthly meetings a half hour early, holding extra meetings, or setting aside 45 minutes at the beginning of each meeting to meet with Merrill. No final decision on the approval process was reached.

Other business

Two Bethel buildings are slated to be torn down to make room for two new businesses, one on the Mayville Road and the second at the bottom of Main Street.

The board last week reviewed Dr. Joseph DeMarco's plan to raze the large apartment building on the corner of Main and Railroad streets and to replace it with an office building.

DeMarco said he plans to run his chiropractic practice on the first floor and live on the second floor of the new 67-by-32-foot building.

Board member Stan Howe said he thought two windows planned for the new building were too large. They did not fit in with the design of neighboring buildings, Howe said. No agreement on whether or not the size of the windows should be decreased was reached by the board.

The board accepted DeMarco's application as complete, but asked him to provide a final stormwater drainage plan, and to obtain a sewer permit from selectmen.

The board also reviewed the application of Rick Savage of Bethel and Robert Martin of North Kingstown, R.I. for a gas station and convenience store on the Mayville Road.

The proposed J & R Country Store would be located across Route 26 from Twitchell Brook Home Brew Supply. A two-story blue house owned by Ronald and Debbie Mills is on the lot now.

The 120-by-40-foot building would house a convenience store and deli, with retail space for another business.

Planners did not accept the application as complete and asked the developers to return with a septic system design, and landscaping and lighting plans.

Board members said a public hearing will probably be held on the project.

Wednesday, the board also gave Nina Wheeler and Sandra Pond approval to place a 14-by-80-foot modular home near Wheeler's Barker Road home.

The building will house the pair's day care center.

Haven

to provide teens with a more positive way to spend their free time.

On May 26, at 7 p.m. at the Bethel American Legion Hall, the partnership will hold a public meeting to explain the Safe Hangouts Program.

The partnership will ask parents and community members to make public a commitment to make their homes a "no-use" space for underage youths.

Homeowners would guarantee that there would be no drinking, drug use or cigarette smoking in their homes and agree not to leave teen visitors unsupervised. A list of safe hangouts would also be published.

If homeowners were willing to go a step further and plan recreational events with young people, the partnership would provide a training workshop for interested adults.

"A lot of kids seem to think that the townspeople see them as being in the way -- that they're not part of the community," Abbott said. "They tell me that if they sit on sidewalk, they're told to move along. I can see it if they're making noise or being troublesome. But if a 16-year-old kid can't sit on the curb and watch the world go by to me that's kind of bothersome. If this idea of setting up safe hangouts works, you'll have adults and teenagers sitting down and talking about what needs to be done. I couldn't think of anything better."

Abbott polled a few of the high school students in his Peer Helpers group at Telstar about the idea, and their reactions were mainly supportive.

"I believe the parents should make the commitment of having a "safe hangout" in their homes," said senior Sean Gilson, "so the kids can have some fun without getting hampered."

Junior Tim Remington agreed. "Great idea," Remington said, "it's time to get a place like this where teenagers can go and hang out."

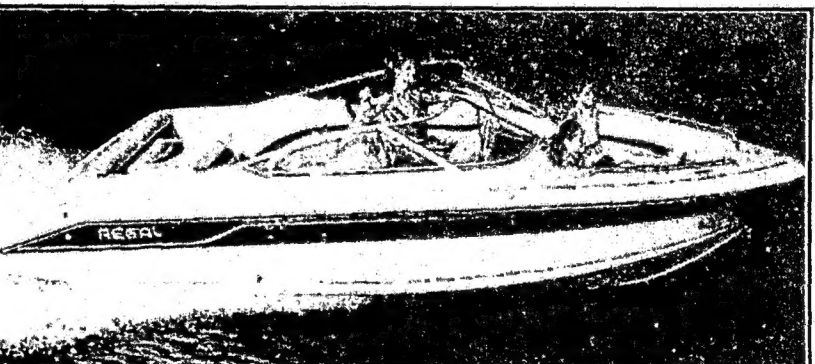

An unidentified sophomore girl added, "I think we need a place to be teenagers and still have fun."

But one junior girl said she wasn't sure how effective the safe hangouts would be. "Safe hangouts are a good idea," the girl said, "but you've got to realize a lot of kids won't use it."

Abbott agreed there are no instant solutions to teen substance abuse.

"I don't think there is any magic cure," Abbott said, "but I do think we can make an impact. I know the situation won't get better if we do nothing. We're hoping any interested teenager or adult representative from local service, civic and fraternal organizations will attend the informational meeting. If they'll just send one person, so they can go back and let their people know what's going on it will get the message out quicker."

Anyone who wants more information about the upcoming meeting or the Safe Hangouts Program can leave a message for Abbott at 824-2136 or Regional Partnership prevention coordinator Kathie Cole at 1-800-649-2306.

One staunch opponent to this year's budget did not attend the meeting, and said the state-mandated meeting "was an exercise in futility."

"It's like locking the barn door after the horse is out," said Pat Doonen of Bethel. "They've already voted on the budget and signed the warrant."

Doonen is calling for district voters to turn out to next week's annual vote on the district budget and to consider trimming the local assessment.

The district-wide budget vote is scheduled for Wednesday, May 25, at 7 p.m. in the Telstar auditorium.

the May 7 and 8 weekend.

A hungry bear ripped a window off one woman's car to get to an Italian sandwich she left on the seat, according to police officials.

In Lancaster, N.H., Fish and Game officials trapped a bear that had been roaming through an apartment complex. The bear pulled a door off a building, rummaged through a dumpster, tore apart a compost bin and took a shed door off and went through the garbage inside.

Wildlife officials lured the bear into a trap baited with assorted pastries, then sedated and moved it.

Art program receives $500 OXCART grant

The Explorations Art Program has been awarded an Oxford Hills Council for the Arts grant of $500. The grant will go toward student scholarships.

Explorations, a program of after-school visual arts classes for grades 1-12, is in its third year in the SAD44 community. Over the past three years, 419 students have participated in the program and 131 scholarships have been awarded. No student has ever been turned away due to finances, according to program director Arla Patch. Most of the scholarship support has come from individuals and businesses in the local community. The Maine Arts Commission made the grant money available to OXCART. The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce has invited the Explorations Program to showcase their art work this spring at the annual awards banquet. The exhibit will also be open to the public just prior to the banquet on Saturday, May 21, from 4 to 6:30 p.m. in the Ballroom at the Summit Hotel at Sunday River. Art work this session will include: plaster carvings, polymer clay reliefs with drawings, collages, drawings with tissue paper, surrealism made with photography, sumi paintings, and foam core constructions.

CPS teacher honored

Crescent Park School teacher Ellen Greeke is a state finalist for a 1994 Presidential Award for Excellence in science and mathematics teaching.

Greeke was one of three teachers Maine will honor with a state-level presidential award. One of the three finalists will be chosen by White House staff for a national Presidential Award in elementary math. The winner will receive $7,500 for their school's math program.

Teachers considered for the award were judged on their ability to improve students' understanding of science and mathematics, their grasp of the subject and their educational leadership abilities.

Greeke said she teaches a hands-on approach to math that meets the standards of the Maine Common Core of Learning and National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Each spring, the Presidential Awards program honors three science and mathematics teachers in both elementary and secondary classrooms in each state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and U.S. jurisdictions and territories.

The former Colby College Ski Team captain will join Gould alpine program director Tim LaVallee and coaches Uel Gardner and Kurt Simard at the Gould Academy Summer Glacier Camp in Tignes, France, June 23-July 11.

GIRLS' LACROSSE TOURNAMENT AT GOULD

Gould Academy will host the Maine Independent School girls' lacrosse tournament beginning on Friday, May 20 at 4 p.m. Finals will take place Saturday, the 21st, at 1 p.m. All games will take place on the Anderson and Bowhay fields.

With several games still remaining before Friday's semifinal lineup will be determined, the teams most likely to participate are Waynflete (7-0), Gould (7-1), Hyde (6-1), and Yarmouth (6-1).

Bailey leads hitters at USM

Shortstop Jennifer Bailey, a 1992 graduate of Telstar High School, finished the 1994 season as the leading hitter of the University of Southern Maine softball team. Bailey batted .397, with a team-high 31 hits and 17 runs scored. She also led the squad in RBI with 16, and hit four triples.

Bailey, a sophomore from Andover, was playing in her first full season for the Huskies. As a freshman in 1993 she appeared in three games before a severe knee injury ended her season.

Bailey played all 27 of the Huskies' 1994 games at shortstop, as the young team finished 7-20. Her fielding average was .910. She broke USM's single-season record for assists with a total of 90, which puts her 10th on the Huskies' career assist list.

"Without question, Jen is one of the most talented infielders to play at USM," said USM coach Karen Hanson. "She is very smooth in the field, rarely making mistakes, and can handle the bat in any situation."

Bailey also led the team with 11 bases on balls. Her on-base percentage was .471.

Bailey is the daughter of Brenda and Christopher Bailey of Andover and a former Telstar standout in field hockey, basketball and softball. She holds the Telstar career point record in girls' basketball.

She has not declared a study major at USM.

Andover

By KAREN McKAY

The First Congregational Church's steeple is near completion. The new steeple will be set in place sometime this week. Commercial Construction Company of Gorham is doing the work. There will be a dedication service for the new steeple on Sunday, May 29, at 10 a.m. The Sunday school classes will hold their closing for the summer recess on May 22. Bibles will be available to students. Family and friends are invited to attend the 10 a.m. service and reception following.

The East Andover Community club met on May 9 at the home of Barbara Meisner with Lorena Simmons as co-hostess. Eleven members and two guests were present. Each was remembered with a Mother's Day gift. One guest, Mrs. Carolyn Kennard of Rumford, showed slides and told of her hiking experiences on the Appalachian Trail. Her sister, Mrs. Earl Towne, was welcomed to the community of East Andover.

The A.E.S. sixth grade will be holding a D.A.R.E. graduation ceremony on Thursday, May 19, at 7 p.m. in the school gym.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Towne have purchased the former Rebecca Marston house in East Andover. They are newlyweds, so we congratulate them and welcome them to our town.

Several from Andover took advantage of the train ride on May 7 that went from Bethel to Norton, Vt. Friends of Anne Fox would like to send her a special hello. Mrs. Fox is now residing in Bethel.

Mrs. Betsey Fisher was the guest of honor at a surprise birthday celebration held at her home on Sunday, May 8. There were 128 friends and family members who gathered to wish Betsey a happy 80th birthday.

Harvey Fisher Jr. and friend Marilyn Parker of Sacramento, Calif. were guests of his mother, Mrs. Betsy Fisher, for a vacation stay.

Alan and Kim Stinson and daughter Miranda have moved to Conway, Ga. Best wishes and good luck to the former Main Street residents.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Eda Perkins who has been undergoing tests.

Sympathy is extended to the Mayberry family for the death of Arnold. Mr. Mayberry and his wife moved to South Andover from Windham following his retirement.

North Newry

By GIL SEELEY

Archie Post will be 90 years old on May 18. Birthday party on May 18. Stay tuned... "As this Auspicious day began the race/Of every virtue joined with every grace/May you, who own them, welcome its return." Congratulations to Crystal Lake (our postmaster) and her husband Al on their 25th wedding anniversary. "Happiness is not perfected until it is shared."

Members of the Newry Mothers Club who enjoyed the Mother and Daughter Banquet at the Upton Ladies Aid on May 10 were Peg Wight, Olive Anderson, Nancy Wight, Karlene Bachelder, Louise Tetley, Gil Seeley and Helen Morton. Other guests from Newry were Betsy Clark and Bea Lowell, also Freda Robertson, a member of the Mothers Club. It was a fun night, loaded with delightful, delicious, appetizing, toothsome food! It was a night to remember. Thank you, Ladies. P.S. Read Arlene Bernier, Upton, for more on this in her column.

Also, Happy Birthday to Rena Powers on her 69th (?), I think. "On this Day, This little notice comes warmly to express the Friendly way. You are always wished the best of Happiness."

Bowling at the Oxford Lanes, Rumford, were five members of the Newry Bowling Gang: Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Gil Seeley, Louise Tetley, Bea Lowell and Doris Parent. Of the overall scores, Gil was high on the triples and singles with one string of 101. Of the "Righties" Louise was high on the triples and singles. Gil had three spares, Karlene had two spares, Betsy had one strike and one spare, and Bea had one spare.

Theresa G. Toli (my niece and Godchild) of Harrisville, R.I., spent a few days with me last week, celebrating Mother's Day with a feast at the T & C Inn. Louise Tetley was a guest.

The Newry Mothers Club met Monday night, May 9, with seven members present. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Gil Seeley.

Peg Wight and Olive Anderson, secretary/treasurer, reported on the finances, etc. The club voted to give a sum of money to the Newry high school graduates again this year. The trip for the children of Newry to Story Land was held up for want of some mothers to chaperone and take charge of everything. Whoever does can contact Peg Wight as soon as possible. A thank-you card was received from Amy Hanscom. It was voted to go to the Town & Country Inn for the annual banquet again this year, on June 13, leaving Newry at 6 p.m. Karlene Bachelder is to make the reservations. The mystery prize was won by Gil Seeley. No meetings till Sept. 12, 7:30, at the Town Building. There was a windy party for snack.

The Windy Valleys Sno-Mobile Club will meet May 19 at the Town Building at 7 p.m.

Don't forget the lawn sale at Newry Corner on the 21st.

The Newry Firemen's Ladies Auxiliary met May 11 at the Town Building with Brenda Wight presiding. Treasurer Nancy Wight brought the finances up to date, and secretary Karlene Bachelder took notes. It was voted to have a public supper, potluck, at the Grange Hall in June sometime. Date will be decided later. Bring hot dish and dessert. Rolls will be furnished, also coffee and punch. A 50/50 raffle, hats at $4, mugs at $5 will be for sale to benefit the organization. Everyone welcome. Next meeting will be June 9 at 7 p.m.

Most mothers here in town enjoyed "Their" day on the 8th even though the rain came down by the bucket full. Cookouts and barbecues were just moved indoors, that's all, and even the worst of storms couldn't dampen anyone's spirits.

Mildred McLain was honored at an indoor barbecue-like affair at her daughter's and husband's home, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh (Linsley) Chapman. She was delighted and pleased with a beautiful bird bath to adorn her lawn.

Peggy Rice's son and family, the Scott Bukers and two children of South Paris, came and Peggy was a recipient of a beautiful 12-cup punch bowl set.

Rose Taylor's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James (Marion) Grant, came the Saturday night before and with her brothers and their families went on a smelting trip to Upper Dan. On Sunday, Rose received a lot of nice cards and several florist bouquets and calls from her other daughters in Gardiner.

Our fire chief Ken Cole and the captain of the department here, Fabian Corriveau, attended a seminar for firefighters held in Portland on the 7th.

On Mother's Day, Kathy Cole and two children visited her mother, Nancy, in Canton.

As for myself, the activities started on the Saturday before when I received a visit from Unicorn Florists with a lovely plant sent by my oldest one, Debby and daughter Jessica. In the afternoon, my daughter Sandra and husband David of Norway came bringing me a beautifully decorated Mother's Day cake with pink roses on it, a potted azalea bush all covered with the loveliest of pink blossoms. On Sunday, Nancy and my granddaughter Kelsey came from Bryant Pond, and my son Herbert and grandson Joshua from Norway with nice cards and live lobsters ready to cook. We all enjoyed a buffet luncheon and reminisced about the good ol' days in B.P. in the little red house. Although we were very poor, we can look back now and get a lot of laughs about our lives there. Some of the lessons we all learned there have served us well over time. (Some of the events that took place among my youngsters I am learning about for the first time at these gatherings, however!) So much for Mother's Day here in Gilead.

A lot of people are starting to have barbecues outside, with a gathering of families and friends as the weather turns warmer. Everyone enjoys being out of doors.

Peggy Rice reports that she has a Christmas cactus in full bloom and it has had flowers on it since February and is still blossoming. Christmas cacti are only supposed to bloom from November over the winter months.

One morning last week "Reddy" fox took a stroll through our garden at 5:30 a.m., following a shortcut to Josie Greenwood's. I think he heard that Josie's place was the place to be and mistook it for Kentucky Fried, seeking an early morning "take-out" bucket full. (Josie has had a partridge feeding out back of her house.) Josie, do you provide napkins to go, too?

Little Brannira Corriveau of Berlin, N.H., celebrated her second birthday at a party held at her grandparents' home (Mr. and Mrs. Fabian Corriveau) with family members and friends in attendance. The house was decorated with party balloons, and a large birthday cake with all the trimmings was enjoyed by all. It doesn't seem that long ago that Brannira decided to enter the world en route to Stephens Hospital in front of the Pink Panther in Bryant Pond. Brannira is still full of surprises, her grandmother reports, but a very pretty and lovable baby. Happy Belated Birthday, Sweet Brannira!

We have our little country store back again, Davis and Joann Alessi have returned from their winter work site near Albany, N.Y. "So glad to have you aboard mates."

We've missed your cheery smiles. Drop in and welcome these two nice people back into our community again. Joann reports the restaurant part of the operation will be open by Memorial Day, but the store opened on May 16. They have hired Brian Hanscom of Newry to be the new manager as they will be back and forth during the summer season to Albany, as well. (Can't wait to sample the pickle barrel, or try the good cheese, can you?)

In the words of Porky Pig, "Th-Th-That's All Folks!" God Bless and Keep till next week, then.

No. Woodstock

By SHANE BILLINGS

It's been a particularly eventful week for the residents of Pinhook, partly due to the beautiful weather we've had these past few days.

The green grass and blue sky make this tiny town seem like one of the attractive places in the country, and most who come here agree!

Emma Billings received phone calls from her granddaughters Sarah (in California), Alison (in Washington), and Mary (in Tennessee) on Mother's Day. Her daughter Linda paid a visit and they had a nice morning together.

Alison Chapman informed her mother Louise that she had recently visited her friend Wanda Crockett in Idaho. Alison and Wanda went to high school together, and they were glad to see one another.

The Silver family visited with Lorelie Cooper on Mother's Day.

I took my mother to Pizza Hut on Mother's Day and we had a nice time together.

My sister's fifth-grade class at Woodstock School will be holding a bottle drive on Saturday, May 21; if anyone wishes to donate bottles they can drop them off at the school or call 665-2057. The bottle drive is a fundraiser for the fifth grade's year-end activities.

Nancy Henderson and June Roy called on their friend Emma Billings recently.

Dawn Davis is home from college for the summer months.

Norma Davis went to her daughter Kristine's New Hampshire home for Mother's Day and enjoyed lunch.

That's all the news from North Woodstock this week.

"Between The Lines"

Dear Friends,
Many of you have read about the lovely pictorial article on Norway featured in the May issue of DownEast Magazine. Unfortunately, getting your hands on a copy (or several) has been a real challenge, since stores in the Oxford Hills (Books-N-Things included) sold out quickly.
We're pleased to announce that our supplier has promised us an additional 100 copies to be delivered on Wednesday, May 11th.
The article and photos, taken last spring, are a tribute to the beauty of Western Maine in the spring. Please stop in to pick up a copy.
We're also happy to say that we've received copies of "In The Kitchen with Rosie," the cookbook by Oprah's chef that has become a national best seller. We've nearly sold out, but more are on the way, so call to reserve a copy!

Locke Mills

By LORRAINE MILLS

Crystal asked me if I would consider taking this column back, as she can't seem to find any news and people hardly ever call. I would scold, but I wasn't any better at calling while she was doing it, so I have nothing to say except I'll try to do it for a while until that person comes along who has a yen to write this column or until I can't, whichever comes first. Crystal did say she'd back me up, so that is comforting.

Debbie and Jessica Cantelo have moved from the Cross house here in town to the garage apartment in Jane Rolfe's house in The Park in Bethel. It was reminiscent of about 17 years ago when I moved from a large, six-room house to this place. Ah, what to keep and what to store and what to throw away. Unfortunately, I stored more than I threw, and it is still out at Ralph's camp taking up space and moldering away. I still haven't gotten up the courage to throw it out. Ralph said, "Leave it alone, Mama, you'll throw out all the wrong things." Alas, my own son aiding and abetting his mother in her sins of slothfulness and procrastination! Anyhow, Debbie says she'll miss all of you that she's met while here, but she's not far away. Give her a call if you can catch her in. Jessica will be attending summer school at Gould, so she will be a busy young lady.

My sister-in-law, Mary Mills, is presently a patient at Maine Med. The woman Mary had been caring for at Sebago Lake died last fall and Mary stayed the winter to look after the house until the new owners could take over. As Mary planned to make her home with her brother and sister-in-law, Donald and Marolyn Mills in North Norway, some of her friends took her out for a farewell dinner. Mary tripped on the restaurant stairs and smashed her knee and ended up undergoing surgery at Maine Med. It would be nice if the story ended there, but it doesn't. After a week or so stay she was released and went to North Norway. She was due for a check-up on May 7, and the X-rays revealed she had somehow broken her leg and had further complications of blood clots around the break, so she was back in surgery Tuesday, May 11. I did get to visit her at Don's but haven't gotten to Portland yet. One can only hope this is the last of these unfortunate happenings and she makes a speedy recovery. I'm sure she covets your prayers and would enjoy cards. Her address is: Rm. 606B, Maine Medical Center, Portland, ME 04101.

For other news, Gerry Shimamura and I were in Lewiston the other day doing a bit of shopping. At least

Gerry knows where she's going. My daughter Marcia had a chance to visit for three days in April, as she could get a ride with friends as far as Lewiston. I did all right getting into Lewiston and finding Mac-Donald's and I went home through Auburn with her in tow. But on taking her back to pick up her ride and after leaving with her friend, Candie Sampson and children, Misty, Jonathan and Amanda, I decided to do a bit of shopping in the Lewiston Mall. That was a mistake, because after leaving the mall I got in a wrong lane and had to turn right before I should have. Suffice to say the dog, Joshua, and I saw a great deal of real estate between Auburn and Turner but no familiar landmarks until I ended up going the wrong way at a four-way junction in Auburn that I recognized. I promptly turned around and headed back the way I came, made the right turn this time, and I was very glad when I got to Buckfield. I knew I could get home from there, which I did -- two hours later than I should have. Well, it's one way to tour Maine. And it was a lovely spring day.

Vera Cross has been working hard raking and cleaning up her large lawn, and it looks very nice. She puts me to shame. I have a 8 x 12 (maybe) size lawn and it's a mess. Her willows and my pine and birches out back really took a beating this winter.

At the last meeting of the Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary, Veronica (Melville) Penley was elected president for the coming year. Sally Melville was presented a bouquet of flowers in appreciation of her work as president for the past few years. Cheryl Young was elected to the office of vice president with Mary Stone serving as secretary and Denise Swan as treasurer. It was voted to give a sum of money to Project Graduation again this year. It was also noted that they would not be putting on the Woodstock Senior Citizens dinner this year.

At the next Greenwood Historical Society meeting on Wednesday, June 1, Vaino Waisaner from Westbrook will be speaking on Old Time Logging.

Norma Knight just returned from a visit with her sister, Hope Caskey, who lives in Ithaca, N.Y.

Pat and Carroll Buck are pleased to announce that they have a new great-granddaughter named Brittany Michelle. Her parents are Tonya and Stephen Fox of Camp Lejeune, N.C., and she joins a brother Kyle. Grandparents are Vickie and Steve Pike. All are doing OK.

Pat Buck took her mother, Ede Holt, to her eye doctor in Bridgton yesterday for a check-up. Ede has had a cataract removed and is doing OK.

Johnny Kahkonen from Oxford was at the home of Frances Grant this past weekend visiting and helping out on the farm. Frances is his great aunt.

Saturday, several townspeople attended the burial services at North Lovell for Hallie Harriman. Members of Kezar Lake Grange had a luncheon at the hall for family and friends afterwards.

I suppose you all saw the great annular solar eclipse on Tuesday afternoon. I tried to with a shoe box and cover but gave up and watched it on TV. I believe the next one will be in year 2012.

The Family Night Banquet put on Wednesday night was a success and a fun time. This was put on by Oxford County United Parish and the proceeds go for summer camp scholarships for children in the area. The Fryeburg Academy Chorus, under the direction of Brent LaCasce, presented a very enjoyable evening of music. Grace Nelson and myself were each winners of a door prize of a lovely decorated fruit basket. The baskets were on each table.

Eleanor Smith has retired from her work at the Open Door Home in North Waterford, which is run by Ruth Swett. Eleanor had been employed there for 11 1/2 years. Happy retirement, Elly.

Dot Bell of Lovell called on Gladys Kilgore one day this past week.

The D.U.V. will be putting out flags at the cemeteries on Saturday, May 21, at 10 a.m.

The smelts are still "running." Didn't think we would have any this year, but son and grandsons came through and gave us a good mess, and were they ever good. Thanks, Gene, Eric and Troy.

A variety of other foods will be available, including sandwiches served with coffee or to take out. Craft items and white elephant items will also be on sale.

The West Paris Alumni Banquet will be held on June 4 at the Agnes Gray Gymnasium, and it is very important that reservations be sent in by May 21 along with sufficient payment. The address is West Paris Alumni Association, P.O. Box 179, West Paris, ME 04289-0179.

Greenwood City

By COLISTA MORGAN

If one knows Greenwood City well and walks down the road and beyond the bridge he will find a cozy farm home. It shelters a lady, mother, grandmother and neighbor to all. On May 7 she celebrated her birthday and Mother's Day. Her daughter gave her a party at which there were 22 relatives and friends.

She has two sons, Robert and David, and a daughter, Ann, to whom her devotion is heartwarming to note.

Home to Fay and her husband Leonas Holt is the dearest spot on earth. The mountains printed sharply against the sky, the pond, her comfortable and attractive farm house, where overhead shuttle the swallows and robins walk her lawn; these are precious to her. The flowers, shrubs, memorable sunsets, when day fades, mean much to her.

One could easily be tempted to stop for a time for you are greeted with a smile and nearly always there is the smell of new baked bread or pies, for cooking is her hobby and sharing it is a symbol of friendliness for neighbor or child, old time friendliness.

Another hobby is her house plants. There is proof from the blossom within her windows.

In her kitchen, a cozy place with warmth and cheer, memories speak of the family who likes to gather there.

Another place in which she likes to work, a rainbow place, her flower garden in bloom, roses and many others heavy with perfume.

These and many other things added together have made a busy, helpful and happy 76.

Rena Curtis was visited by several of her children and their families on Mother's Day.

Robert Holt and daughter, Jennett from Windsor visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt, over the weekend.

Dot Betts and I were at Stephens Memorial Hospital on Tuesday to see Doris Slattery who is a patient there. I was surprised to see another friend of many years in the same room. She was Rena Ring when I first came here to teach back in 1926. I also had her children in school. What a pleasant surprise that was!

So. Woodstock

By ANDREA WING

Another rainy day! Seems like it rains about every other day. Everyone gets out to take a jaunt on the nice days. I saw Esther Davis taking her almost daily walk down the road and Brydie Kane taking her children for a stroll in their stroller. You have to get out and enjoy it, as it doesn't last long.

I went to Lewiston Tuesday morning to have a psoriasis treatment. I only have to go once every other week for now. Seems good.

Jessie Hart cut her head on a window at Telstar Middle School this week. Her mother Kellie had to take her to the emergency room for a couple of stitches.

Sarah Hart enjoyed opening her birthday presents last night. We had just a small gathering, as her mother Kellie has a touch of the flu. Cake and ice cream were served.

There have been several hummingbirds at their feeders this week. They are always fun to watch. I thought it was early but tried the feeders anyway. It worked!

I'm finally done my spring cleaning. Always seems so good to get it done. Winter sure makes for a dirty house. My house, anyway, I really enjoy it for a while after it's completed.

Don't forget the banquet of the 1944, 50-year, graduating class of Woodstock High School. This will be held June 4 at Telstar High School. All are welcome.

There will be a Benson descendants' family reunion, Saturday, May 21, at Richard and Andrea Wing's home. Dotie Critser will be here from Arizona and is looking forward to seeing everyone. There will be a potluck lunch at 1 p.m. Please bring a lawn chair and your own sodas. If you would like to come just to visit, come anytime in the afternoon. In case of rainy or cold weather the reunion will be held at the South Woodstock Union Church. We hope to have a good turnout.

Larry Billings, curator, Woodstock Historical Society, reports that the society observes that the author James Joyce once had one of his characters say, "All history moves toward one great goal, the manifestation of God." He also adds that the society looks at our area's development through the years. They also sponsor cultural events. You can join the society and make a contribution yourself. Think about it.

Quote of the week: "I've learned that honesty in little things is not a little thing."

Joyce Birch, Simsbury, Conn., was a recent guest of Barbara Hathaway.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens met at the Grange Hall on Thursday, May 5. A very nice luncheon was put on by the Firemen's Auxiliary. The program featured Mike Perry who told about his trip across America on bicycle. It was very interesting. Next meeting is June 2, and we go to the Chick-A-Dee restaurant for dinner.

Mary Billings gave some articles to the Historical Society. The society promotes fine projects and activities, give it your support. It also promotes knowledge of antiquities, our cultural heritage, and of course history. Certainly such things are important to all of us.

Judith Grover Tent 17 met on Monday night with 12 members present. Elsie Bonney, junior vice president acted as president; Sally Sawyer as guide, Bessie House as senior vice president. The charter was draped for former nat. treasurer Vivian Gertz. General Orders #2 were read as well as nat. treasurer's report and letters from nat. chief of staff and department president Gail Butterfield. An application for membership was read. An investigation committee was appointed. Memorial Day plans were discussed. Delegates and alternates to the convention were appointed. Twenty-seven calls were reported. Cards were sent to Alice Wardwell, Ruth Dunham, Harriet Estes and Gail Butterfield. A poem was given on "Mothers" and a reading on "The Four Freedoms." Flags have been ordered. Next meeting will be June 13 with Elsie Bonney and Elena Noyes on refreshments. A silent auction was held.

The Memorial Day program will be held Monday, May 30, at the Honor Roll by the Grange Hall. The program starts at 1 p.m. Roland Lord will be the speaker and the band will be from Leavitt High School. The parade follows the program. All are welcome to attend.

The Woodstock High School Alumni Association met at the home of Alice Hoyt on Tuesday, May 10. Invitations were written to the classes of 1924, 1934, 1944, and Telstar seniors from Woodstock and Greenwood and others that applied for the $50 scholarship. Posters were made. The Alumni Banquet will be held June 4 (Saturday) at Telstar Cafeteria at 6 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Hathaway joined a family dinner on Mother's Day at her daughter's, Phyllis and Reynold Jordan's.

Roland and Mary McMillin joined Ruth Dunham for dinner on Mother's Day. Alberta Scribner called on her mother, Ruth Dunham, a while on Mother's Day.

Beatrice Farnum and Alice and Ken Hoyt joined a get-together at Leatrice and John Chase's on Mother's Day. Others present were JoAnn, David, Ray and Shawn Crockett, Helen Chase, Crystal Chase, Robert Stevens, Keith, Jenny and Daniel.

The selectmen met Thursday to try to come to a conclusion on waste management. John Aron, dump attendant, resigned as some residents refuse to comply with recycling regulations. His was the second resignation this year.

Joshua, the friendly bear, has visited several places in town. He got Mardie's bird suet and she got pictures, he visited Ray and Vi Bernier, Jerry and Amy at the Trading Post as well as other homes and the dump.

The planning board met Monday night, May 2. Horace and Patricia Goodrum were granted a permit for the new home they are building on their property for occupation by their son Rodney. A permit for a shed was granted Walter Stanczyk on Mill Road.

The plowed ground on this Friday, May 13, is covered not by harvest but instead with that four-letter word which gives us cold shudders in May. Since my house is so full with new seedlings, I'd set pots of geraniums and other plants on the porch figuring to cover them if the temperatures dropped. Wind blew off the heavy cover and even the silk poinsettias got nipped. Maybe the cucurbits sprouting in coffee cans on my table should mature there. Be careful not to stumble over a pumpkin when you come to call.

Upton Ladies' Aid hosted the Mother and Daughter Banquet Tuesday evening. Very welcome but fewer than expected ladies from Newry and family guests of members were present.

The banquet was planned and prepared by Leslie Aron and Ellie LeComte. Lucille Largesse and Christine Morton were in charge of the program.

The program opened with a delightful sing-along conducted by Amy Geiling, Joy Yarnell, as the main speaker, showed slides of flower gardens and picturesque places she and Jim visited in England and Spain.

From the Bethel Area Health Center

Before you know it your child will be scrambling to get on his/her favorite sport team again this fall. To do so, children generally need to pass a sports physical. Why wait until the last minute like everyone else, and save some expense at the same time. During the remainder of May and the months of June and July sports physicals are available at the Health Center at a 20 percent reduction if payment is made at the time of the appointment. It may take several weeks even during the summer months to schedule a physical, so call the health center today at 824-2193.

BRIDGE GROUP WRAPS UP

The Cynthia Mason Round Robin Bridge Group held its final round at the Summit Hotel at Sunday River on Sunday, May 1.

Other total score winners were second, Rita Davis; third, Rich Grover; fourth, Danny Grover; fifth, Sue Farnum; sixth, Wende Gray; seventh, Wilder Kimball; eighth, Lee Barth; ninth, David Schlieper; and tenth, Pearl McMillin.

Average score went to Verna Thayer, the lucky number 13 to Evaline Kimball and the Glad You Came prize to Millie Thomas. Anyone interested in joining the group for the next session to begin around Labor Day should contact Elaine Dresser at 824-2750.

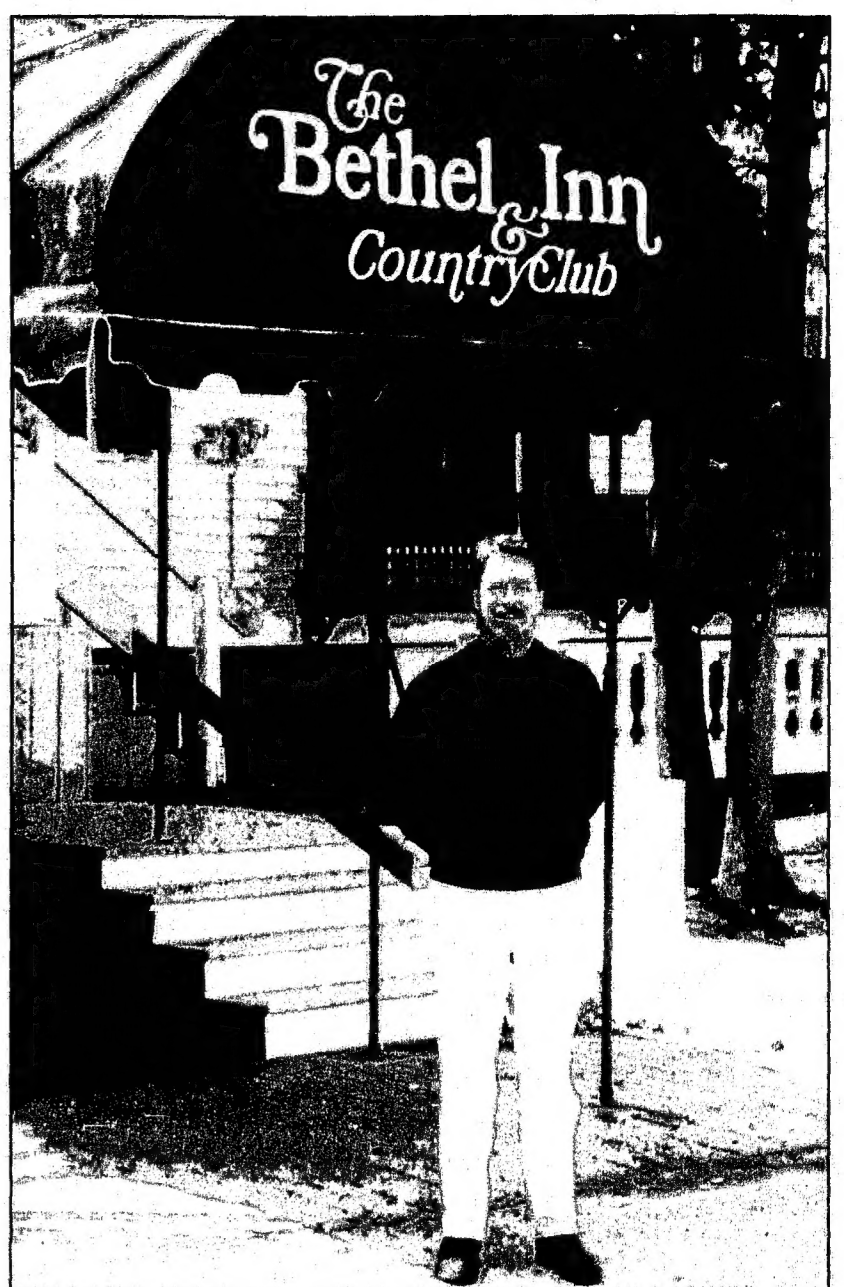

TALLY-HO REUNION

A 25-year reunion of the Tally-Ho 4-H Horse Club will be held on July 31.

All former members and leaders of the club are welcome to participate and are urged to call either Gary Locke at 627-4992 or Kay Daniels at 674-3551, just to give the club an idea of the number of people involved. The reunion will be held at the home of Gary and Janet Locke in Casco and will start at 12 noon. Everyone attending is asked to bring potluck; grills will be available for those who wish to cook outside.

In keeping with the 4-H tradition, this will be a chemical-free gathering.

Past leaders are asked to bring any picture albums or other memorabilia that would be of interest.

Golf tip of the week --

Feel for pace -- Most people imagine that the direction of the putt is its most important aspect, but pace (or distance) is the critical factor. More second putts are missed because the first one has been struck too hard or soft rather than because it was wide of the target. Learn to feel for pace and it will reduce your number of putts.

The golf tip of the week is provided by the staff of the Bethel Inn and Country Club.

Worker's Comp. Workshop

The Evans Notch Economic Project is sponsoring a workshop on worker's compensation on the evening of Monday, May 23, from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Telstar High School lecture hall.

Directors of the Maine Worker's Comp program and area legislators will sit on a panel to outline the history of the system in Maine before 1992, explain the legislative reforms passed in 1992, and highlight the proposed and real effect of those reforms.

Directors of insurance programs will discuss the options available for both small and large businesses. Area business leaders will outline safety programs they are involved in and discuss how businesses can reduce their costs. Questions from the audience will be fielded by the full panel and topics on how to influence future reforms will be addressed.

Gregory P. Herrick, project consultant for the Evans Notch Economic Project, organized this workshop after meeting with area boards of selection, organized groups, business leaders and concerned individuals about the findings in his Economic Base-Line Study, as well as the economic conditions of the region in general. During these meetings in April, worker's compensation was identified as one of many serious problems facing area businesses; a problem that has been hindering economic recovery and one that will continue impeding new economic growth, Herrick said.

All interested people are welcome to attend the workshop. Audience participation will be featured and all viewpoints are encouraged to come and share their insight. Light refreshments will be served and an informal discussion period will follow the event. For more information about the workshop or the Evans Notch Economic Project, contact Greg Herrick at 824-2282.

Panelists will include: Jim McGowan, executive director of Maine's Worker's Compensation Board; John Lenoard, CEO of Maine Employer's Mutual Corporation; Richard Haines, plan administrator for Dunlap Insurance Corporation; Alvin L. Barth, Jr., state representative for District 49; Richard A. Bennett, state representative for District 50; Robert A. Cameron, state representative for District 52; Leon Favreau, CEO of Bethel Furniture Stock; and Becky Cummings, safety plan coordinator for Sunday River Skiway, Inc.

The Evans Notch Economic Project is a one-year locally controlled and developed project funded by a US Forestry Service Rural Development Grant. ELLIS RIVER RIDERS PLAN TRAILS DAY RIDE

The Ellis River Riders of Andover are planning to celebrate National Trails Day again this year by hosting a trail ride on Saturday, June 4.

National Trails Day is celebrated across the country by various organizations to help promote the use of multipurpose recreational trails available for public use. The riding club wants to help maintain the privilege of using privately owned lands for recreational riding. In this area there is little public land, and the trail network is mostly over private property, and paper company land.

The ride this year will begin at the Andover arena on Airport Road at 10 a.m. There are two trails, one is an easy eight-mile loop, and the other is a longer 20-mile ride. The ride is not limited to club members, and everyone is invited.

The following day, Sunday, June 5, there will be an Open Horse Show held at the arena. The show starts at 9 a.m., rain or shine. Spectators are welcome at no charge. For more information on National Trails Day or the Open Horse Show, please contact The Ellis River Riders, Inc., Box 332, Andover, ME 04216-0332, or call 392-2381.

Strike up the band

By WENDY HANSCOM

Have you got a clarinet in the closet covered with cobwebs? Do you have fond memories of playing in your hometown high school or college band?

A group of local formally "retired" amateur musicians is hoping you're willing to limber up your lips, dust off your musical instrument and join a SAD44 area community band.

Telstar High School alumna Rhonda Buker of Newry is helping organize the proposed band. She's hoping enough people will join up so the band could march in local parades and put on occasional concerts.

"It's time for a group like this," Buker said. "Telstar doesn't have a band anymore, but there are people in the community who were in high school bands. We hope to form a marching band and/or concert band to play at area events such as Molloykett Day, Memorial Day, Andover Olde Home Days and school productions. Another goal is to give concerts on the Bethel common. We want people from all over the SAD44 area."

The band would be open to musicians of all ages and experience.

The Mahoosuc Arts Council and SAD44 Adult Ed. have both agreed to sponsor the band.

Band supporters are looking for an instructor to lead the group and perhaps give a few musical lessons to novices. Some money may be available through Adult Ed. or Mahoosuc Arts to pay an instructor, Buker said.

The group is also planning to ask the SAD44 School Board of Directors if some of the district-owned musical instruments now in storage can be used. Some of those instruments include, drums, baritone horns and sousaphones.

The group is planning a start-up meeting soon. Anyone interested in joining the band, or in more information, can call Buker at 824-3076 or Vicki Rackliffe at 824-3575.
